If you insist on wearing longer trousers with backless shoes, Pants Un-Heeled is your fashion fix. Sometimes women just want to pair their favorite backless shoes with pants, so creator Cheryl Mancini decided to help women wear them together with confidence.

Available in early August 2009, you will be able to buy a pack of 12 Pants Un-Heeled disposable strips for $12.95. These firm yet flexible adhesive strips are worn on the underside of your pant hem at the back of each leg. Instead of experiencing a “pant wedgie,” your trousers will remain smooth and stylish.

I received a sample of this product and did like the way it kept my wide-leg trousers in place. Visit the Pants Un-Heeled website to order your fashion “sole-U-tion”.
